It is not to be expected, in a City like this, where whole Streets are built up in a week and whole Squares swept away in an hour—where the floating population numbers thousands and a large portion of the fixed inhabitants live in tents and places which cannot be described with any accuracy, that a Directory can be got up with the correctness that they are in older and more established cities. We have scarcely a house numbered, and what there are will puzzle quite as much as assist. Still we think such a Book is needed, and feel confident it will save much trouble. That we have done it more correctly than others would, we do not claim. But we do claim to have done it to the best of our ability, under the circumstances, and leave it with the Public to decide upon its merits.

NOTE.—On account of the length of the names of some of the Streets, we have, in many cases, abridged them to the initial: As Commercial and Clay are the only two streets, near each other, commencing with the same letter, it will be very easy telling what is meant; as, for instance, Wash b K and M means Washington st. between Kearny and Montgomery.

Conclusion.

In conclusion we shall touch upon but two things, about which little has been said by others but which we think are of importance, and first, the one brought more particularly to our notice as connected with this work that of numbering the Streets.

Under the present settled state of change it is very plain that all plans of numbering the buildings will very soon become defective from the building-up and tearing-down process continually going on, nor will it be likely to be better for some time to come. If then a plan could be adopted giving the location quite accurate, and still independent of the buildings. We think it worthy the consideration of the public. Now we enjoy the opinion that we have one of that nature, which, for all business operations, would answer every purpose. It is this: to have the streets, commencing at Bay street, on the north and Front st., on the east marked off by posts, or otherwise into spaces of fifteen or twenty*feet, more or less, as would seem to be the most convenient. By having these spaces numbered, you have your streets marked off perfectly independent of any change which may occur in the building. This could be done by the city government wholly, or they could merely designate the number of feet to each space, and any one, by means of a map, could easily tell what their number should be, and put them up accordingly. The other subject is that of bell-ringing as it is now practiced for our churches. We have seen the whole congregation of a religious meeting start from their seats at the ringing of the bells of other churches, supposing it was for fire; and how are our firemen to know whether the bells are ringing to call them, with all their powers, to fight the devouring flames, or, with their most devotional feelings, to attend a prayer meeting. How widely different the objects, yet the same summons, put forth in the same manner, calls them to both. This is certainly wrong, and we think our City-Council should make it the duty of bell-ringers, in all cases of business or for Church, to set the bells at regular intervals, as they do in the Atlantic cities.

We will now return our thanks to all those who have kindly assisted us in this work, and our wishes that they, with others, will assist us in our future efforts, which we trust to be able to make more full in many respects.
